

CBDA-7 (13/20/27 January 2023, online)

<http://www.cbdaconference.org/>

JANUARY 13, 2023 (times given with reference to Paris time)

11:30 – 12:30	First Xavier Dekeyser Memorial Lecture by keynote speaker Dr Ayumi Miura (Osaka University)  'Lexical semantics of impersonal constructions: Its diachronic relation to loving and hating'
LUNCH BREAK
13:30 – 14:00	Jacob Runner (Kanazawa University)	'Runes and Latin: the significance of early medieval English multiple script usage'
14:00 – 14:30	Chris Smith (Université de Caen)	'Exploring diachronic competition between Vable and Vsome adjectives'
COFFEE BREAK
15:00 – 15:30	Natasha Stojanovska-Ilievska (Ss. Cyril and Methodius University in Skopje)	'Shifting Grammatical Conventions: the Case of Singular THEY'
15:30 – 16:00	Mael Farina (Université de Caen)	'Using the Oxford English Dictionary in combination with corpus analysis via sketch engine to inquire phonesthemes: a case study of gr- words'

Zoom link for the session <https://univ-reims-fr.zoom.us/j/93525406609?pwd=cXZnVTNwWXI4TU9tbTVodjhZZlJBZz099>

JANUARY 20, 2023 (times given with reference to Paris time)

13:00 – 13:30	Nicolas Vodé (Sorbonne Université)	'Herien, loven, preisen: semantic competition in Middle English religious lexicon'
13:30 – 14:00	Marina Asián (University of Almería)	'Norse-derived terms in the Middle English lexis: an etymological study of Havelok the Dane and The Canterbury Tales '
14:00 – 14:30	Sara Pons Sanz (Cardiff University)	'A Re-evaluation of the Norse-derived terms in the Ormulum on the Basis of the Gersum Typology'
COFFEE BREAK
15:00 – 15:30	Sylvie Hancil (Université de Rouen)	'To what extent can aspect be modal? The case study of the be + -ing form'
15:30 – 16:00	Virginia Meirelles (Universidade de Brasilia)	'Rhotic and non-rhotic English in the Post-Independence United States'

Zoom link for the session <https://univ-reims-fr.zoom.us/j/99569516277?pwd=Z2tUMSs0dzBQc1FGYnNUaWxQcm9zd09>

JANUARY 27, 2023 (times given with reference to Paris time)

13:00 – 13:30	Jerzy Nykiel (University of Bergen) and Reijirou Shibasaki (Meiji University)	'On the rise and fall of (it/there) is no nay in the history of English'
13:30 – 14:00	Baptiste Verly (ISIT Paris Panthéon-Assas Université)	'The possible influence of Latin on the development of the "accusative and infinitive" construction from Old English to Present-Day English'
14:00 – 14:30	Dan Morris (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)	'Register and the development of comparative and superlative alternation in historical English'
COFFEE BREAK
15:00 – 15:30	Wiebke Juliane Elter (University of Mannheim)	'Loan verbs strengthening existing argument structural patterns'
15:30 – 16:00	Charles-Henri Discry (independent researcher)	'A Comparative study of ger causative structures'

Zoom link for the session <https://univ-reims-fr.zoom.us/j/98350201054?pwd=aEdmSjZlVWx2VDhEaGRQb1hHL0h2Zz09>